In addition participants and observers may participate in the work of the CCWG. Participants will be able to actively participate in and attend all CCWG meetings. Participants and observers will be invited separately to put their names forward.

In accordance with the adopted charter of the CCWG (<http://buff.ly/2gGK1rh>), the ccNSO (as well as each of the other chartering organisations) shall appoint a minimum of 2 and a maximum of 5 members to the working group.

Members are appointed by the Chartering Organizations in accordance with their own rules and procedures. Chartering Organizations should make reasonable efforts to ensure that the composite of individual Members:

- Understand the needs of the Internet communities that ICANN serves (standards, domains and numbers);
- Understand the broader ecosystem (the Internet Community) in which ICANN operates and the needs of those working on other aspects of the Internet industry, including those not yet connected

The CCWG currently convenes once every two weeks, for 90 minutes. The time commitment as a ccNSO appointed members to the CCWG new gTLD Auction Proceeds is 2 to 4 hours per meeting.

Roles and Responsibilities

The roles and responsibilities of the ccNSO appointed members to the CCWG new gTLD Auction Proceeds are:

- To participate diligently and actively in the meetings and activities of the CCWG on an ongoing and long-term basis

- Share input from the ccNSO with the CCWG

- If feasible and considered relevant ask to the ccNSO for advance guidance, if any, on matters that are going to be discussed by the CCWG.

Background CCWG new gTLD Auction Proceeds

The CCWG is tasked to develop proposal(s) for consideration by the Chartering Organizations on the mechanism that should be developed in order to allocate the new gTLD Auction Proceeds. As part of this proposal, the CCWG is also expected to consider the scope of fund allocation, due diligence requirements that preserve ICANN's tax status as well as how to deal with directly related matters such as potential or actual conflicts of interest. The CCWG will NOT make any recommendations or determinations with regards to specific funding decisions (i.e. which specific organizations or projects are to be funded or not).

The new gTLD Applicant Guidebook (see <https://newgtlds.icann.org/en/applicants/agb>) deals with the possible uses of auction funds as follows: “

Possible uses of auction funds include formation of a foundation with a clear mission and a transparent way to allocate funds to projects that are of interest to the greater Internet community, such as grants to support new gTLD applications or registry operators from communities in subsequent gTLD rounds, the creation of an ICANN-administered/community-based fund for specific projects for the benefit of the Internet community, the creation of a registry continuity fund for the protection of registrants (ensuring that funds would be in place to support the operation of a gTLD registry until a successor could be found), or establishment of a security fund to expand use of secure protocols, conduct research, and support standards development organizations in accordance with ICANN's security and stability mission”.

Deliverables and Reporting

As a first step the CCWG will develop and adopt a work plan and an associated schedule of activity. The CCWG is expected, at a minimum, to publish an Initial Report for public comment followed by a Final Report, which will be submitted to the Chartering Organizations for their consideration.
